TEST LOCATION

This is a confidential report of the radon samples that were submitted to our laboratory for measurements of radon-222 levels. The results represent the amount of radon that was present in the air during the time of sampling. The radon was measured in our laboratory using the liquid scintillation method and the results are reported in Becquerels per cubic metre (Bq/m³). This report will not be released to anyone without your permission except as required by federal, provincial or territorial laws and guidelines.

AVERAGE RADON LEVEL (average result of two tests) : 53 Bq/m³HEALTH CANADA RECOMMENDS THAT YOU FIX YOUR HOME IF THE RADON LEVEL IS 200 BECQUERELS PER CUBIC METRE OR HIGHER.

Radon levels less than 200 Bq/m³ still pose a risk. You may want to take additional measurements because radon levels can vary with the seasons. You may also want to consider doing a long term test to determine the average radon levels over a longer period of time. If the radon level is 200 Bq/m³ or higher you should perform either a long-term test or a second short-term test. If you would like to know more about radon mitigation, or have other questions, please call Health Canada at (613) 954-6647 or visit Health Canada's web site at <http://www.healthcanada.gc.ca/radon>.
